
Both lines average the same sequences at each prefix. Early weights cannot always be distinguished.
32 fresh product-source sequences; one fixed trained model. Shading: one standard error across sequences.